Date: [21-01-2025]

Project Overview:

Bellezza is a home-based beauty service platform designed to connect clients with skilled beauty professionals. The platform addresses the growing demand for personalized, on-demand beauty services delivered to clients' homes. It aims to provide a seamless and convenient experience for booking beauty services such as haircuts, hairstyling, facials, makeup, pedicures, and more. Clients can create personalized beauty profiles, choose professionals based on their expertise, and schedule appointments via the app or website. The main objective is to offer convenience, customization, and a high-quality beauty experience tailored to individual preferences.

Questionnaire for Data Collection:

1. What type of beauty services are you most interested in booking at home (e.g., haircuts, facials, makeup)?

    - Haircuts
    - Hairstyling
    - Facials
    - Makeup

- Manicures/Pedicures
- Waxing
- Massage therapy
- Skincare treatments
- Other (please specify)

2. How often do you use home beauty services?

   I frequently use home beauty services, typically on a weekly or more regular basis. These services have become an integral part of my routine, offering convenience and personalized care. The ability to access professional treatments at home allows me to save time while enjoying premium-quality services tailored to my preferences.

3. What factors influence your decision when booking a beauty professional (e.g., experience, reviews, certifications)?

   When booking a beauty professional, I prioritize several key factors to ensure a high-quality experience. These include the professional's level of experience, as it reflects their expertise and skill in delivering services. Reviews and ratings from previous clients play a crucial role in building trust and providing insight into their performance. Certifications and credentials are also important, as they demonstrate their qualifications and adherence to industry standards. Additionally, factors like availability, pricing, and the use of premium or eco-friendly products can also influence my decision.

4. What are the most important features you expect in a beauty service app (e.g., easy booking, payment options, service variety)?

   When using a beauty service app, I expect several key features to enhance convenience and user experience. Easy booking is a top priority, with a seamless interface to browse services, check availability, and schedule appointments quickly. Flexible payment options, including credit cards, mobile wallets, and in-app payments, are also essential for hassle-free transactions. A wide variety of services tailored to individual preferences adds value, as does access to verified professional profiles with reviews and ratings. Additional features like real-time tracking, personalized recommendations, and loyalty rewards further elevate the app's usefulness and appeal.

5. Do you prefer to have a virtual consultation before booking a service? Why or why not?

   I prefer having a virtual consultation before booking a beauty service because it allows me to communicate my specific needs, preferences, and expectations directly to the professional. It helps ensure that the service will be tailored to my requirements, minimizing any chances of miscommunication. Additionally, a consultation builds trust, provides clarity on the process, and allows me to ask questions or receive expert advice, which enhances my overall confidence in booking the service.

6. How important is real-time tracking of your beauty professional's arrival time for your bookings?

   Real-time tracking of my beauty professional's arrival time is very important. It allows me to plan my day more efficiently and ensures I'm ready when the professional arrives. Knowing the exact arrival time helps reduce any uncertainty and adds a layer of convenience, as I can better manage my schedule without wasting time waiting. It also enhances the overall service experience by creating a sense of reliability and professionalism.

7. How satisfied are you with the current at-home beauty service providers in the market?

   I am somewhat satisfied with the current at-home beauty service providers in the market. While many offer convenient services, there are areas for improvement, such as consistency in quality, clearer communication about pricing, and more flexible booking options. Some providers may lack personalization or have limited service variety, which can make it harder to find exactly what I'm looking for. However, there are a few high-quality providers that offer excellent experiences, which I appreciate. More attention to customer feedback and service innovation would make the overall market even more appealing.

8. What payment methods do you prefer when paying for beauty services (e.g., credit card, mobile wallet, in-person payment)?

   I prefer using digital payment methods like credit cards or mobile wallets when paying for beauty services. These options are convenient, secure, and allow for quick transactions without the need to carry cash. Mobile wallets, in particular, are great for their ease of use, especially if the app integrates with them. While I don't mind in-person payments for small transactions, digital payments offer a more seamless experience, especially for larger or recurring bookings.

9. How likely are you to recommend a beauty professional after a successful service experience? Why?

   I am very likely to recommend a beauty professional after a successful service experience. When I receive a high-quality, personalized service that meets or exceeds my expectations, I want others to have the same positive experience. Sharing my recommendation helps friends and family find trustworthy professionals, and it also supports the beauty professional by providing them with more clients. Word-of-mouth is powerful, especially when the service has left me feeling confident and satisfied.

10. What additional features or services would you like to see in a home beauty service platform?

I would love to see a few additional features and services on a home beauty service platform. Some ideas include:

Loyalty Programs: Rewarding frequent users with discounts or special offers would encourage repeat bookings and enhance customer satisfaction.

Specialized Treatments: More options for niche services like hair extensions, scalp treatments, or advanced skincare procedures would cater to a wider range of needs.

Eco-Friendly and Vegan Products: The ability to choose beauty professionals who use eco-friendly, organic, or vegan products would be great for customers who prioritize sustainability.

Group Bookings: The option to book multiple services for a group (e.g., for events or parties) with a discount could enhance convenience for gatherings.

Detailed Professional Portfolios: Access to more in-depth profiles, including before-and-after photos of previous work, would help build trust and allow for better decision-making.
